Together, Jack Fishman, ESQ. and Anne Miller, ESQ. have over 50 years of combined experience working in law specializing in estate planning, business and corporate law, mediation, corporate bankruptcy, elder care and animal law, however, their areas of expertise go far beyond those. General Understanding of Buying or Selling Residential Real Estate

This seminar will address the basics of being either a purchaser or a seller of residential real estate transactions from Contract to Closing. The sale or purchase or lease of real estate will be discussed. We will discuss the ins and out of a real estate transaction and what happens at a closing, such as what documents are needed, how to take title, cash transactions and related costs. Participants will have the opportunity to pose questions in more detail at the conclusion of the seminar. Due to ethical restrictions, this seminar is for individuals who are not already represented by an attorney in a transaction.

Tax Questions Answered

As tax season approaches, we all become increasingly aware of the need to be diligent regarding various tax issues. What amount you can 'gift' to someone without any tax consequence; or how much you can inherit; or how much you can pass on to someone on your death? Are you uncertain about "basis", "Step-up", ordinary income, capital gains tax etc.? What about the connection between real estate assessments and real estate taxes? When and how you can contest taxes, or assessments? We encourage anyone with any corporate, estate, gift, or related tax issues to attend this informative session.

College Age or Young Adult Children?? Know Yours and Their Rights!

Why do young adults, including those who may be planning for or going off to college, or entering the workforce, need at least basic estate documents? Why is financial planning and possibly planning for college expenses, something that both the young adult and their parents should be discussing, both before and after the young adult reaches the age of 18? Nonfinancial documents, such as health care powers of attorney and HIPAA authorizations, authorizing parents, or not, to have access to certain school or medical records that they would no longer be able to obtain because of the child's age, are topics for discussion.
